

AGINI Conference 2024 – Thursday, 13th June 2024

“Sustainable Futures: Geospatial Innovations and Impacts.”

Calling all GI users, specialists and experts. AGI Northern Ireland's premiere GI event is scheduled for Thursday 13th of June 2024 at Riddel Hall, Belfast and we are looking for speakers. The deadline for submission of paper proposals is 5pm on Tuesday the 30th of April 2024.

We are living through rapidly changing times and working within dynamic environments, often times with a variety of pressures influencing our work. In many cases, changing what we do and how we do it becomes essential to overcome the challenges we face.

This year we are highlighting geospatial innovation in public/government, commercial/industry, and academic sectors. We are looking for original and thought-provoking presentations on the use of GI for public benefit, industry trends in data collection technologies and methods, models of best practice, and more including...

- Earth Observation processes and methods.
- Advances in new methods of data analytics such as AI technology.
- Innovation through GI in regional and local government to meet budget challenges.
- Building geo-literacy, innovative GIS interfaces (web apps/dashboards) and capabilities to engage communities and the public sphere.

Presentation Categories

We are soliciting papers for presentations in any of three categories (please state the category in which you would like to present):

- Full presentation – 15 minute speaking slot
- 10x30 Lightning talks – 10 slides, 30 seconds max. each slide (5 minutes total)
- Poster presentation – A1 or A0 (max) size posters

Ready to present?

Please send short proposals (maximum 250 words) to the AGI NI Committee c/o Andrew Paul, AGI NI Chair, at apaul@imgis.ie no later than 5pm on Tuesday, the 30th of April 2024.

Not ready to present?

If you want to attend as a delegate instead, early bird registration for the conference is open in March 2024, watch this space (www.agi.org.uk)
